The Honorable Mayor Joseph Peterson And members of the City Council
City of Wyandotte, 3131 Biddle Avenue, Wyandotte, MI 48192

Dear Mayor Peterson and Members of the City Council:

While we are still in the grips of winter, thoughts of warmer spring weather are not far behind.

It is my pleasure to inform you that the Hebda Cup Rowing Regatta will be contested on Saturday April 30th, 2011, and the Wy-Hi Rowing Regatta will follow on Saturday May 7th. In case of bad weather both regattas will run on the following day.

We are expecting both boys' and girls' high school rowing teams to compete from around the mid-west region and Canada at these regattas.

We ask your permission to use the BASF Waterfront Park for these dates and also ask for your support in providing the same type of superb assistance as has been afforded us in the past by the Division of Public Services and the Recreation Department.

We once again ask that Biddle Avenue be closed between Pine and Third Streets during the regattas to provide parking and storage for the visiting schools' busses and shell-trailers. We will work with the DPS to minimize the time that the street will be closed.

We also look forward to the Mayor and Council members presenting the City of Wyandotte's Mayor's Trophy to the overall winning crew at the end of the Wy-Hi Regatta.

We consistently receive complements every year about BASF Park and the city from the visiting crews, and are proud to play host to these dedicated high school male and female athletes.

In addition we do hear from local businesses that these events bring in extra business and dollars for our city.

Sincerely yours,
Fred Mekolon Jr., Regatta Chair, For The Wyandotte Boat Club, 1 Pine Street

PERSONS IN THE AUDIENCE

Doug Pettigrew, WBA President, working hard to enhance Wyandotte Businesses. Thanked DDA for their support.

Corkie Benson, 404 Vinewood, read the following:

I did not put this on the agenda because I wanted to personally express my views on the subject of Wyandotte buying properties for future city improvement. This has been a subject of many debates by Council, serious concerns at neighborhood meetings, and even public discussions at Meijers on Sunday morning for many years!

If we are familiar with history it can show and tell us many things.

What were once Indian cabins along Biddle Avenue became farms like John Biddle's 2,000 acres in the early 1800's. As more settlers came to Wyandotte, industry began to develop. By 1854 Wyandotte's industries drew immigrant workers from all over the world to work in its shipyards and chemical industries. What was once farm land became workers housing built by Eureka Iron Works and called "Rolling Mills Houses". Wyandotte was incorporated as a city in 1867 and the "Alkali Company Houses" were built in late 1880s. Soon families followed the workers to Wyandotte and more houses were built. In 1921 there were 50 high school students. But by 1923 that grew to 1400 students and Roosevelt High School was built. This first 100 or so years of history shows Wyandotte's growth from Indian cabins to farms, to industry, to individual homes and families.

After World War II many GI's returned to Wyandotte to go back to work in industry here. They built small single family wood homes on 30' lots all over the city. They were built without garages or driveways because most families could not afford a car. These 1945-50 houses are still a major residential household style in Wyandotte today. The DAD walked to work and the MOM stayed home with the kids. When the auto industries began to thrive the ship building and iron works industries were faded-out in Wyandotte. Wyandotte Chemical - today BASF - and Wyandotte Hospital employed some residents. Much of the old Wyandotte work force now had to buy a car to drive to work at the auto plants in surrounding cities. Again history shows us how progress changed the use of the land, jobs, and home and family life.

According to the 2000 census Wyandotte now had 12,303 housing units. But as a sign-of the-times and the auto industry's reign in metro-Detroit only 1.9 % of workers still walked to work! Today we still have many of the same mid-1900's houses with no space to park their now 1.9 average family cars. The 2000 US census also indicated the median year for houses in Wyandotte is 1947. That would make that median age home retirement age of about 65 years now.

In the 1960's Wyandotte saw more women entering the work force which increased household income. In the 1970's bigger houses were built with driveways and garages on larger city lots. Urban renewal worked its magic in the McKinley neighborhood and in my mind saved the rest of the city from spreading crime and blight while attracting new residents and keeping many already here! The NSP2 grant is now beginning to work its version of urban renewal in the Garfield area for the next few years – thanks to Wyandotte having properties on hand for a land bank – a necessary component for this $7.8 million dollar Federal grant!

In the past and thinking ahead, Wyandotte has taken the opportunity to buy old housing, many with TIFA dollars, and knock down many dilapidated houses instead of leaving them to attract the homeless and drug dealers. THANK YOU TIFA for your continued commitment to our neighborhoods! Vacant lots in Wyandotte are scattered throughout the city so we do not have one slum area to negatively affect all the surrounding neighborhoods. Many of you no longer have to live next to 3 rentals on one lot because Wyandotte has torn many down to make room for an owner occupied single family home. What we do in Wyandotte today will be the history of the future and I hope it will show us and tell us how progressive programs like our city's property purchases, urban renewal and the NSP2 grant improved and sustained our neighborhoods.

I don't think we should forgo or abandon the policies and programs that have worked so well in the past just to go backwards for that almighty tax dollar...and believe me, we all understand that tax dollar! A few weeks ago Councilman DeSana noted how hard Mark and Kelly work to do a great job regarding properties in Wyandotte. And I agree with Councilman Sabuda, if the lots are going to sell in today's economy, it's time for City Council to aggressively develop and promote some new incentives to get vacant property back on the tax rolls:

- maybe by deeding to neighboring properties like the lot behind my house on Fourth which is a non-build able lot but could provide space for the Poplar Street house to have a yard and garage,
- maybe selling some lots for $1 to get a new home as was done in the past and worked,
- maybe finally selling that 9' strip of land to my neighbor who has tried to purchase it many times while the City waits 20 years for the neighborhood rental to buy it,
- maybe discussing ANY and ALL offers on lots that have been sitting vacant with tax dollars paying to cut the grass and shovel the snow for way too many years
- maybe if you really want the lots sold then sell them and take a LOSS to get that tax dollars coming back in. It just might not be such a big loss because in reality right now tax dollars are supporting those vacant lots.

I hope we can all remain positive and continue to strongly support Wyandotte's past efforts in buying properties for future city improvement. I'm going to continue to be optimistic and hold out for those new City Council ideas and incentives that will bring the tax dollars back without compromising the past policies that have been very successful.

When you look back in history, going from the Indian cabins to a $7.8 million dollar grant to build many new homes and renovate foreclosures, Wyandotte has done pretty well! We are not just another OLD city with ageing housing. Wyandotte is a city with plans for the future of our neighborhoods.

Re: Former Police Station Property - 2015 Biddle, Wyandotte, Michigan

Dear Mayor Peterson and City Council Members:

To facilitate redeveloping the former police station property at Biddle and Northline, the City must determine that the structure is "blighted," as defined in the Brownfield Redevelopment Financing Act, Act 381 of 1996, as amended (see Enclosure 1). A review of the building's condition has determined that the building is "blighted," based on the following criteria:

1. The existing vacant structure is an attractive nuisance to children because of its physical condition, use and occupancy, as evidenced by its poor condition and the fact that it has been unoccupied and unsupervised for more than 2 years.
2. The utilities, plumbing, heating, or sewerage have been permanently disconnected, destroyed, removed, or rendered ineffective so that the property is unfit for its intended use.
3. The building has been declared a public nuisance in accordance with a local building, plumbing, fire, or other related code or ordinance.

Therefore, the undersigned requests that Your Honorable Body adopt the attached resolution concurring with my recommendation to determine that the property is blighted.

Very truly yours,

January 20, 2011

Hon. Mayor Joseph Peterson and Members of Council
3131 Biddle Ave.
Wyandotte, MI 48192

Honorable Mayor and Council:

I am concerned about some of the comments made at the regular City Council meeting on Monday, January 10, 2011, about historic houses in the City of Wyandotte. I am writing, because health concerns preclude my attendance at public meetings.

About two years ago, in a phone call to the local office of a federal agency, I spoke with a young woman who responded enthusiastically when she learned I was from Wyandotte. "Oh," she exclaimed, "I wish I could afford to live in Wyandotte!"

Intrigued, I asked what about Wyandotte was so attractive to her. "I just love its character," she replied. "The people there care about their history, and about even new houses fitting in with the neighborhood. There aren't all the monstrosities they're building out where I live," which turned out to be Brownstown.

Over the past few years, dozens of people have told me similar things about Wyandotte's historical character. Other communities have larger lots, bigger houses, and more and larger shopping centers, but the historic character permeating Wyandotte makes it stand out among downriver communities. We're wonderful at being us; we'd be mediocre as an imitation of somebody else.

I wonder, too, who are those "better people" so greatly attracted by larger lots? To my mind, the better people, those I like having next door, are those who mow their lawn, rake their leaves, shovel their snow, pick up after their dogs, end outdoor parties by bedtime, call the police when they see a stranger prying at my back door, keep their trash from blowing onto my lawn, are considerate of my tax dollars in their use of city services, and resolve disagreements civilly on the basis of evidence and underlying principles. None of these characteristics is related to the size of the lot on which they want to live.

If the priority is to maintain property value, personal experience suggests that catering to speculators, as demolition to increase the size of lots and houses can, undermines the culture that makes Wyandotte so attractive to those of us who live here by choice. Speculators have no reason to care about its history, social values or cohesion. My husband and I have seen in other communities, on the other hand, that attention to history and culture protects property values.

Historic preservation provides other economic benefits as well, including jobs (per dollar of investment, more than either manufacturing or new construction), household income (greater than manufacturing or new construction), heritage tourism, small business incubation, downtown revitalization, small town revitalization, neighborhood stability (property value and population), and stability during periods of neighborhood diversification. These benefits are backed up by voluminous evidence, which I will omit from this letter in consideration of the City Clerk, but will attach in part.

Those of us who love Wyandotte care about its community cohesion as well as its economic success. Here, too, historic preservation has a role. Quoting an expert on the economics of historic preservation, "A deeply felt anger when a neighborhood landmark is razed isn't because of the building - it was only stone and wood after all. It was because a piece of the community was taken away."

I sincerely hope that you, as Wyandotte's decision-makers, will preserve both our spirit of community and one of our two most important economic resources (along with the riverfront) by protecting our historical buildings. I request that you build on the city's wonderful heritage by adopting and implementing a focused and specific policy directed toward preservation of our historic buildings to support economic development and quality of life.

In regard to the house at 2080 Fourth Street, a drive around the block shows it to be a lovely example of the Arts and Crafts style. It is in a closely-built neighborhood (currently recommended by planners) characteristic of its time, whose historic character would be significantly altered by the removal of any of the houses. A few options that were not brought up or discussed at the January 10th Council meeting include: Investigating the possibility that a private buyer could negotiate with a neighboring property owner (of the apartment building across Fourth Street?) to rent a parking space; locating a buyer who wants a small historic home and who would be willing to move the house to a larger lot (some companies specialize in historic real estate transactions); or, if you insist on demolition, that at least it be demolished by a specialist in architectural salvage, who could preserve its outstanding architectural elements and might even charge less than an ordinary demolition company. The house is beautiful, even from the outside, and it isn't doing any harm where it is. Wyandotte will benefit from your creativity in dealing with it.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Johnson-Quayle, 1529 Davis St.
Wyandotte, MI 48192

RE: Proposed Ordinance to Regulate Abandoned Residential Structures

Dear Mayor and City Council:

Pursuant to a request from members of the City Council, I am enclosing a proposed ordinance to regulate and register abandoned residential structures in the City of Wyandotte. This ordinance is patterned after an ordinance adopted by the City of Battle Creek which has been approved by the Michigan Court of Appeals. The definition of an abandoned residential structure would be a dwelling or accessory to the dwelling which has become a vacant or abandoned for a period of at least 28 days and in addition which meets one of the 11 listed conditions set forth in Section 7-75. The ordinance requires the owner to register the property and to pay the registration fee which is to be set by the City Council resolution.

Failure to comply with the ordinance would constitute a municipal civil infraction and subject the owner to a fine and other remedies determined by the Court.
